Last weekend we drove north from Bend to Hermiston, Oregon. Now you ask what does this have to do with the board an to Hemongway Transmission Project? A lot! The landscape of rolling hills of grain has been completely destroyed by the intruding wind mills. What an ugly sight! There has to be a better way to lay out the transmission line...a way that won't ruin the beauty of our precious few areas that remain untouched by ugly transmission lines ro wind mills!

Please rethink this awful plan!
