

comment@boardmantohemingway.com

From: EnviroLytical - B2H <info@envirolytical.com>
Sent: Friday, March 13, 2015 9:59 AM
To: comment@boardmantohemingway.com
Subject: New Communication: I have lived near Hermiston for the past 13years, I recently moved to montana but still own property in the Hermiston area. The better part of both Oregon and Idaho is made up of rural areas where the

Sarah lamborn <sarah12042@yahoo.com>

<https://el2.envirolytical.com/communication/view/102970>

I have lived near Hermiston for the past 13years, I recently moved to montana but still own property in the Hermiston area. The better part of both Oregon and Idaho is made up of rural areas where the livestock and crops that help support our country are raised. The proposed power line will be detrimental to the quality of life for the men and women who live in those areas. While that may not be a considering factor in your decision to go ahead with this project, consider as well the detriment to the industry those men and women are a big factor in. We need our rural communities to stay strong, please reconsider running your power line through this private property.