As a union county resident I often visit Morgan Lake just west of Lagrande. It is a lovely spot for enjoying nature just minutes from town. The transmission lines should not be sited close to this lovely local resource. The old Oregon Trail also passes through La Grande. It would be nice to stay as far removed to that historic relic as possible. I frequently take out of state visitors to the Baker Oregon Trail center. I understand that one of the site plans would run very close to that site as well. BAD IDEA!
