We personally do not have a problem with the concept of the high power transmission line, except we do believe every effort should be made to NOT cross over productive ground and disrupt farming and irrigation activities. Also, perhaps more information needs to be available about how members of the communities would benefit in the long run from this enterprise.

Comment period closes March 19

The 90-day public comment period for the Boardman to Hemingway Transmission Line Project (B2H) Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) will close on March 19, 2015. Please submit your comments by March 19 to be included in the project record. The online open house, which provides information complimenting review of the DEIS, will remain open through the end of the comment period.

How to access the DEIS:

- Download a copy at www.boardmantohemingway.com
- Review a copy at a document viewing location

Submitting comments:

- Website: www.boardmantohemingway.com
- Online open house: b2hdeis.publicmeeting.info
- Email: comment@boardmantohemingway.com
- Send written comments: B2H Project, P.O. Box 655, Vale, OR 97918
- Comments must be postmarked by March 19, 2015 to be included in the project record

What happens next?

After March 19, the U.S. Bureau of Land Management (BLM) will compile and analyze all comments received during the comment period and prepare a response to comments tracking table. Comments will inform how the BLM proceeds through the final EIS process.
